Matthew 25 Grant

A special thanks goes to Solveig McArthur for working on a grant from our synod to receive help with our new monthly TLC Food Giveaway ministry. Her efforts definitely paid off and we were granted enough money to buy 3 large and very helpful rolling carts. We could not do what we do without them! They are heavy duty and we put them to use to help unload the food we receive and also to help the families carry out the food they receive from us to their vehicles. This past time, while waiting for the next family, some very cute little ones found them to be quite fun and worth exploring.

It's so nice that we have talented and willing people to step in to lead services during Pastor Tim's leave of absence.

Our Service Team braved the heat to sort and count school supplies for our local students. We are so grateful for this teams dedication and for the utility carts that made the work so much easier. Thank you to everyone who has donated, volunteered, and supported this ministry. Every backpack and every supply is a reminder that our community cares.

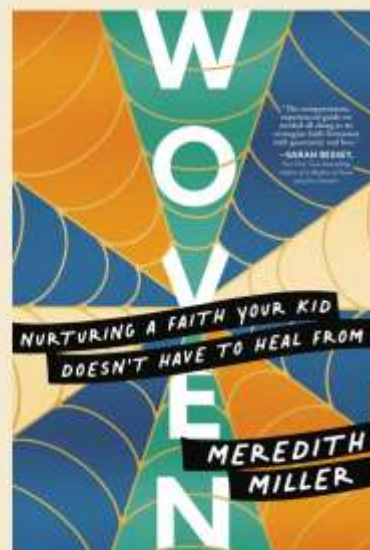

This month we'd like to share a book that has sparked thoughtful conversation and reflection. Whether you're a parent, grandparent, caregiver, teacher, or simply someone interested in nurturing faith across generations, you may find it encouraging.

WHAT ARE WE READING?

Woven: Nurturing a Faith Your Kid Doesn't Have to Heal From

by Meredith Miller

Woven invites parents to cultivate a faith centered on knowing and trusting God rather than emphasizing rule-following or behavior management. Using the metaphor of a woven web, Miller offers a framework for helping children develop a resilient, thoughtful faith that welcomes questions, grows over time, and is anchored in God's character.

Have you read this book--or another one that has strengthened your faith or encouraged your family? We'd love to hear your thoughts and recommendations. Let's continue learning from one another as we grow together in faith.

We were truly blessed to witness a special musical moment during worship on Sunday, June 14, as Kayley and Henry, mother and son, shared a beautiful duet of

How Can I Keep From Singing?

Their voices blended in wonderful harmony, reminding us of the joy and hope found in praising God through music. Thank you, Kayley and Henry, for so generously sharing your gifts and blessing our congregation.

A heartfelt thank you to Matt & Paxton Baughman and Josh & Sawyer Weygandt, our father-and-son livestream teams, for faithfully sharing your time and talents. Your dedication helps keep our church family connected and extends our worship beyond our walls. We are truly grateful for your servant hearts.
